

BITTER ATTACK MADE UPON VARE POLITICAL GROUP

Statement Released by Taxpayers' Committee Against Political Exploitation

TEXT IS GIVEN

Says Organization for Years
Was "By-Word" for Political Corruption

"Shall the Philadelphia Organization Rule This State?" is the caption of a political statement released today by a "Taxpayers' Committee Against Increased Taxes and Political Exploitation of Pennsylvania."

The statement is a bitter attack upon the Vare organization which the article says: "Has for years been a by-word for political corruption."

The article in full reads:

For years—in every County of our Commonwealth — patriotic Pennsylvanians, regardless of their political party, have bitterly resented the evil reputation that has been put upon their State by the Philadelphia Vare Organization.

The question now confronting the voters of Pennsylvania is whether they will permit the control of that Organization to be extended to the entire State.

Over a period of nearly two decades it has had a strangle-hold upon the City of Philadelphia. It has over-riden honest men in public office, stolen elections, bartered away the rights of citizens, and mortgaged the largest city in our Commonwealth to the verge of bankruptcy.

A few months ago political corruption and municipal mismanagement brought the City of Chicago to a financial crisis in which, for a time, it was unable to borrow enough money to meet its monthly payroll. Yet Chicago, with a million more population than Philadelphia, has a bonded indebtedness of only $240,000,000, as against a public debt of $650,000,000 that has been loaded upon Philadelphia—a bonded indebtedness, according to a Federal report, that is larger per capita than exists anywhere else in the whole United States.

But that is not the whole story. Official announcement has been made that for next year Philadelphia's tax rate for city purposes will be increased more than 25 per cent.

Of what concern is all this to you? The very greatest concern because the Philadelphia Vare Organization, by the most desperate step any such group ever took, is now asking that you give it control of this Commonwealth and of the State's finances.

The old Vare Organization is now completely under the domination of Charles B. Hall. Mr. Hall likewise dominates the Council which handles Philadelphia's finances and dispenses municipal franchises and other public privileges. He is a professional politician who has been upon the public payroll throughout the forty-eight years of his adult life, and although he has never held a public office paying a salary of more than $5,000 a year, he is today reputed to be a multimillionaire.

Early this year Mr. Hall announced that he and his colleagues would have their own candidate for Governor in the May Primary. He likewise announced that the chief purpose of that candidacy would be to elect to the Governorship a man through whom a much larger share of the State's money would be diverted to the activities and projects controlled by Mr. Hall and the Vare Organization.

The success of that program meant one of two things—that either taxes must be substantially increased, or the citizens of every other part of the State must suffer curtailed appropriations for their roads, schools, hospitals, etc. The Republican voters of Pennsylvania saw the situation clearly, and to the utter amazement and unbounded indignation of Charles B. Hall, defeated his candidate.

Their next move was to have their candidate appeal to the State Supreme Court to disfranchise practically the entire electorate of Luzerne County and thus give to the Hall-Vare candidate, by a court order, the nomination which the Republican voters of Pennsylvania had denied him. And as this action was initiated, Mr. Hall had the effrontery to announce that undoubtedly the Supreme Court would do as their candidate asked. The people of this Commonwealth were thoroughly aroused, and the Supreme Court decided that unprecedented petition of attempted theft.

Having failed twice in their efforts to get control of the Government of this State through a Republican candidate for Governor chosen by themselves, and realizing that there was no hope of obtaining that objective through the regular Republican ticket, Mr. Hall and his colleagues turned to the deal which has carried them out of the Republican Party in this gubernatorial contest. They have made their alliance with John M. Hemphill.

In explanation of this action, Mr. Hall has made a statement which his ward leader colleagues say also goes for them. Mr. Hall states (and the ward leaders echo) that a lifelong Re-

Frank Merrill To Be At Riverside Theatre

Even the movie stars can no longer be merely decorative. This is a work-a-day world and the work-a-day folks who plunk down their quarters and fifty cent pieces at the box office demand honest to goodness people as their heroes.

Frank Merrill scored one of his biggest hits in "Tarzan the Mighty" and has just completed "Tarzan the Tiger" for Universal Pictures Corporation and which is the most spectacular chapter play ever produced. A story of a man conquering the wilds with plenty of real fights with the most unappreciating beasts.

Frank Merrill will appear in person as the mighty Tarzan on the stage at the Riverside Theatre tomorrow night.

Tarzan informs us that before working with the wild animals all you have to do is to get accustomed to their methods and when you have gained the confidence of the animal the rest is easy. At any rate, Mr. Merrill is the strong man of the screen and says he'll be here with bells on—not scars.

MAN CONFESSES FIRING HIS YORK ROAD HOME

Tells Officers He Piled Clothing On Stove When He Found Family Gone

STILL CAUSES A FIRE

HARTSVILLE, Oct. 22.—The dwelling occupied until a few days ago by the family of Herman Hotelman, York Road, near here, and owned by Paul Gardner, Willow Grove, was slightly damaged by fire last night.

Today Hotelman confessed to County Fire Marshal William L. Stackhouse and State Police, that he fired the place.

Hotelman told the authorities, it is said, that he returned on Monday from a month's trip to Illinois. He found that his wife and family had left and that the furniture in the house had been sold to another party but had not been moved.

The family had been gone a day or so when Hotelman returned.

Last night, according to his statement, it is said, he broke into the place through the back door. There was still fire in the kitchen range so Hotelman took the bedclothing and piled it on top of the stove and poured kerosene on it.

Hotelman then claims that he left the place and closed the door.

Hartsville firemen extinguished the blaze without much loss.

Hotelman has been placed under arrest and will be given a hearing today.

CHALFONT, Oct. 22.—Fire last night caused by an exploding still on a farm near the county line, two miles from here, damaged a dwelling to the extent of $3,000.

Arrest of the owner of the still is expected late today by the State Police.

The house, after the blaze was discovered, was found to have been equipped as a distilling plant. The still was erected in the dwelling and there were 40 barrels of mash. The firemen used the mash to extinguish the blaze.

There was scarcely any furniture in the place and the occupants made a hasty get-away. The name of the owner of the property is not known at this time.

STATE GOVERNMENTAL BUDGET SYSTEM

The Courier herewith presents an informative article written by Arthur P. Townsend, Langhorne, Budget Secretary to the Hon. John S. Fisher, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania.

The story is taken from the current issue of a monthly publication, "Pennsylvania Progress," which is issued by Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

The article will be published in daily installments until completed.

By Arthur P. Townsend
Budget Secretary of Pennsylvania

DESCRIPTIVE

Pennsylvania's Budget System is in outline a well defined cycle covering a fiscal biennium or appropriation period. Function follows function step by step through the cycle of two years, some occurring once in the period, others, such as the functions in controlling expenditures, occurring daily. This article will take up and describe in order each function of the System beginning with the sending out of forms upon which to submit appropriation requests and estimates to the Budget Secretary.

Determining Appropriations

This is a statutory function of the Budget Secretary established by Section 601 of Article VI. of the Administrative Code. In each even-numbered year he must obtain and prepare information necessary for the preparation of a state budget covering the fiscal biennium beginning June 1st of the following year. Not later than the fifteenth day of August he must distribute to every agency of the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Departments forms and requests for the use of such agencies in estimating receipts and requesting appropriations for the following fiscal biennium.

The estimates and requests must be returned to the Budget Secretary not later than November 1st, together with full supporting explanations and reasons for the amounts. When all have been received the Budget Secretary makes two tabulations, one of the estimated receipts and one of the requested appropriations. Then he delivers these tabulations and all of the receipts estimates and appropriation requests to the Governor for preliminary study.

The Governor notes the totals of the tabulations of receipts and appropriations and inspects the estimates and requests of each agency. If he is not satisfied with the estimates of receipts or with the reasons for the amounts of appropriations requested, he instructs the Budget Secretary to make further investigation or inquiry. The Budget Secretary does this by requesting information in writing or by holding a conference with the officers or other representatives of the agencies.

Not later than January 1st, the Budget Secretary submits to the Governor in writing all estimates and requests and all additional or supplementary information requested by the Governor. The Governor now has in his hands all of the data he needs in preparing his Budget Recommendations.

In preparing his recommendations, the Governor turns first to the receipts and examines the estimates made by the Department of Revenue which, under the Fiscal Code of 1929, is now solely responsible for furnishing the estimates of the State's revenues. He considers carefully the items of receipts showing estimated increases and decreases and the reasons therefor. When he is satisfied with the estimate he establishes the total amount, which, in his opinion, the laws governing taxes and other receipts will produce. He then turns to the requests for appropriations.

It is always found that the appropriation requests of all agencies, when added together, greatly exceed the expected availability of funds. This is but natural to expect. The head of every department, board or commission always has in mind possible ways in which the functions of his agency might be improved, enhanced or added to for the best interests of the citizens. Nearly every appropriation request shows one or more of these programs expressed in terms of a request for a larger appropriation. The Governor considers the appropriation request of each agency with four things in mind; first, the amount of money needed to carry on present functions; second,

MORRISVILLE COUNCIL DEFIES ARREST THREAT

Refuses to Improve Streets
Unless They Are Deeded
To the Town

VOTE IS UNANIMOUS

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 22.—Despite threats of arrest made last week by Washington Heights property owners if they would not authorize street improvements on the development within 14 days, members of the Morrisville Borough Council at their monthly meeting last night unanimously refused to improve the streets unless they were properly graded by the developers of the tract and the deeds were turned over to the borough.

Acting on an opinion obtained from the borough solicitor, Lewis R. Bond, which accused the Washington Heights Realty Company, developers of the tract, of "shirking responsibility for grading of the streets," members of the council ruled that taxpayers at large should not be compelled to pay for improvements to property not deeded to the borough.

The council members sought the opinion from the borough solicitor following receipt of a letter last week from Stacy B. McIntee, Doylestown attorney, who, as counsel for property holders of Washington Heights, gave notice that unless they authorized improvements on five streets within two weeks, the matter would be taken before the Bucks County Quarter Session Court at Doylestown and the arrest of the eight members of the council would be sought at once on charges of maintaining a public nuisance.

The letter set forth that the residents desire the filling in of holes, the fixing of drainage, and the placing of coatings of cinders on Osborne avenue, Lafayette avenue, Hillcrest avenue, Clymer avenue and Harper avenue, claiming that all five thoroughfares in their present condition are impassable. In petitioning the borough council to make the necessary improvements, the residents cited the fact that they are compelled to pay borough taxes and school taxes and henceforth the expenditures should come out of borough funds.

Solicitor Bond's opinion, however, set forth that the borough supplied water to the Washington Heights residents with the express understanding that the borough would not be bound to maintain the streets, which still belong to the realty developers. The opinion further pointed out that the plans of the Washington Heights Realty Company for the development of the tract had never been formally submitted to or accepted by the borough council and that the complainants were to be properly graded by the realty company.

While a part of North Lafayette avenue and a portion of Clymer avenue was graded, the opinion recites, the developers shirked responsibility of completing the job and left property owners sitting high and dry as to street improvements.

"If the company grades the streets, the placing of a coating of cinders or macadam would need only the execution of a deed from the Washington Heights Realty Company to the borough, and this should be insisted upon by the residents of the development and the borough at large," the opinion stated.

The opinion urged the borough councilmen to proceed cautiously, adding that "any precedent established in this case would be binding to Chester Manor and other developments that will not turn title to its streets properly graded, to the borough."

In protesting to the borough recently, the Washington Heights residents,

JUSTICE MOSCHZISKER TENDERS RESIGNATION

Is Effective Six Weeks Before
Expiration of 21-Year
Term

GIVES HIS REASONS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—(INS)—Chief Justice Robert Von Moschzisker of the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court has tendered his resignation to Governor John S. Fisher effective November 24th. The date is six weeks prior to the expiration of his 21 year term.

Von Moschzisker plans to immediately resume the practice of law. He will be succeeded by Justice Robert S. Frazer of Pittsburgh.

In his letter to Governor Fisher the Chief Justice wrote:

"It is my intention to retire from the Supreme Court on Monday, Nov. 24th, 1930, immediately upon the administration of the oath to Judge Frazer, who will succeed me in the office of Chief Justice.

"There is only one sitting of the Court before the first Monday of January, 1931, when my elective term expires. That session convenes Nov. 24, 1930, by which time I can complete my work in all pending cases. The November meeting will last about two weeks which leaves too short a period, between its termination and the end of my term, for me to take up and finish with my fellow judges the consideration and final decision of the cases then to be argued. For this reason, and because the November session will be in Philadelphia, where, immediately upon ceasing my judicial service, I shall resume the practice of law, it seems better, both from a practical point of view and as a matter of good taste, for me not to participate in the cases which will then be presented to the court."

JURY'S VERDICT IS IN FAVOR OF QUAKERTOWN MAN

Max Fishman, Clothing Manufacturer, Will Not Have To Pay

WAS SUED BY HAGER

Several Other Cases of Interest Taken to The Jury

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 22.—In his suit for $50,000 damages against Max Fishman, a prominent Quakertown clothing manufacturer, Lloyd B. Hager, of Philadelphia, a former resident of Quakertown, will not receive a cent. A jury in civil court, after deliberating three hours yesterday awarded a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Hager alleged that his wife, Mrs. Jennie B. Hager, thirty, was assaulted by Fishman in the clothing factory where she worked on August 8, 1928. Fishman, fifty-eight, denied the allegations and testified that he was with his nephew on the day and time charged by the plaintiff. It was also testified that Mrs. Hager did not start until four months after the alleged assault until she had been discharged from the Fishman plant.

In a former trial last January in the same case a jury awarded Hager a verdict for $10,000 after which the defense attorney, Gordon H. Luckenbill, of Quakertown, applied for a new trial. This was the second trial of the case.

In a suit over payment of a balance alleged to be due on the purchase price of a threshing machine, a jury yesterday awarded a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case of the Advance Rumely Thresher Company, Inc., a corporation, against Samuel B. Rohr and Walter M. Rohr, intervening defendants, of Buckingham township. The case was tried before Judge Hiram H. Keller.

In No. 2 Court before Judge Keller trial started yesterday in the case of D'Angeli Brothers, Ardmore, against J. Narducci, of Treviso. The plaintiff is suing for $147.48 with interest from Sept. 21, 1928, alleged to be due as a balance on a bill for stone and sand sold by the plaintiff to the defendant.

In the trial of the case of Howard H. Robinson against Frank W. Carman, operator of a fox ranch on the Old York Road, both sides closed yesterday afternoon and Judge Calvin S. Boyer charged the jury. It was a suit over wages the plaintiff alleges is due him over a period of time he conducted the operation of the ranch.

LATE HOURS

A scientist connected with the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, who has been engaged in experiments designed to add to our information concerning sleep, asserts that the average student does not spend as much time in bed as he should. That is a matter of common observation; but it is not only the student who does not get enough sleep—there are hosts in different walks of life who stay up too late.

Public health authorities and physicians are constantly harping on the danger to the nervous system and health in general of the late hours made a practice of by radio fans, night-club frequenters, bridge players and other human species peculiar to this age. Merely because those who preach the early-to-bed doctrine practice it no more than do those to whom the preachments are addressed does not detract from the force of the warning.

There are many adages concerning the benefits that come from saving time, from employing the golden hours wisely; but these proverbs cannot be twisted into an argument for depriving oneself of slumber. It is not the part of wisdom to spend in study or any other occupation, however commendable, nocturnal hours that should be devoted to rest and recuperation. More will be lost from lack of sleep than can be gained from using sleeping time for other purposes.

The strain of sleeplessness will in time impair the health. One can do without food for a long period, but not without slumber. Nature knew her business when she provided it. It is conceivable that some substitute for sleep may some day be found; and there are no doubt exceptional cases in which persons can thrive on far less sleep than the average person requires. But until then sensible people will keep on getting their quota of sleep more or less regularly.

PERFECTING THE AIRMAIL

When commercial aviation was being dreamed about the far-seeing wisecracks solemnly counseled that airplanes would always be the slaves of the elements, taking to the air only with the permission of the winds and snows. They have received their answer from aviation sooner than even the most optimistic expected.

In a remarkably short time the airmail service has reached a point of efficiency which compares favorably with the standards maintained by other postal facilities.

The New York-Atlanta line is representative. It has been operating with an efficiency of 99.79 per cent. Of a total of 158,679 miles of flying scheduled in August, the planes flew all but 338.

Already close to perfection, the airmail service should readily attain that goal when radio equipment is available the full length of all routes.

What are the fruits of this dependable and speedy service? Public patronage of the airmail has mounted steadily with the perfection of the service. Business between the terminals of the air lines has improved. And greater things in commercial aviation are assured.

Those ancient dinosaur eggs found in Montana rival in age the cold-storage variety.

SHALL THE PHILADELPHIA ORGANIZATION RULE THIS STATE?

The Philadelphia Vare Organization has for years been a byword for political corruption.

It has almost bankrupted Philadelphia, and for next year the tax rate in that city will be raised—according to the City Controller, more than 25 per cent.

In the absence of William S. Vare, Charles B. Hall dominates the Philadelphia Organization. They ran their own candidate for Governor in the Republican primary, announcing that the purpose of that candidacy was to procure a much larger share of the State's money for projects controlled by Hall, Vare and the Philadelphia Organization.

Defeated in the primary, they attempted to steal the Republican nomination. Defeated again by the Supreme Court, they now turn to a Democrat in their efforts to control the Government of this Commonwealth and the State Treasury, with its accumulating surplus.

Their excuse for bolting the head of the Republican ticket is that Gifford Pinchot is not a good enough Republican for them. Hence they urge their followers to vote for a Democrat.

NO MAN WHO HAS BEEN A REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR OF THIS STATE CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY CHALLENGED AS TO HIS REPUBLICANISM

The Hall-Vare Organization has stepped out of the Republican Party into an alliance with John M. Hemphill. The particulars of the deal between the Hall-Vare Organization and Hemphill may not be known, but no informed citizen believes that Hall and Vare are for Hemphill unless Hemphill is for Hall and Vare.

For eight consecutive years, under Pinchot and Fisher, Pennsylvania has been administered honestly, efficiently and economically, in the interest of all the citizens.

If Hall and the Vare Organization get control of the State, where is the money coming from to meet their promised raids upon the Treasury? It can only come from more State taxes.

There is only one safeguard for the citizens of this Commonwealth—

BRISTOL HOCKEY TEAM IS TO OPPOSE AMBLER

By Leon Schiller

Tomorrow the Bristol High hockey team will play its initial home game of the season with Ambler players as opponents.

To date the team has as yet to win its first game of the season. However, one must consider the fact that Coach Diemer has moulded together out of raw material a "snappy team" which lacks experience.

Coach Diemer is confident that her young girls will give a good account of themselves when they enter the fray with Ambler. The loss of "Dot" Santo for Thursday's game has left quite a gap at the right wing position. However, Santo, will be replaced at right wing by "Lou" Des Camps, one of the Cardinal and Gray's most reliable substitutes.

A large turnout would, no doubt, stimulate the girls and inspire them on to victory. So don't forget the game starts promptly at 3:45 p. m.

the amount of money needed to improve any or all functions; third, the amount needed to increase the scope or importance of any functions; and fourth and last, the amount needed to provide for additional functions. The second, third, and fourth of the above steps bear direct relationship to the administrative policies or program which the Governor wishes to lay before the General Assembly. Thus it happens, that in determining his program he often determines his recommendations for appropriations.

When the Governor has established a tentative program he compares the total of the appropriation recommendations supporting it to the total estimated receipts. If it is much less than the estimated receipts the Governor may recommend the reduction of taxes. If it is almost equal to the estimated receipts, the budget is balanced. If it is greater than the estimated receipts the Governor is faced with two alternatives—the further deletion of items from his program or the inclusion in it of a recommendation for the increase of revenues.

Whichever is done, as soon as the Governor determines his budget recommendations and prepares his budget message, the whole is printed. The details of the printing, proofreading, style, etc., are supervised by the Budget Secretary.

Morrisville Council Defies Arrest Threat

forming themselves into a body known as the Washington Heights Taxpayers' Association, claimed that the streets are in such poor condition that trucks are stuck there for days and coal dealers refuse to bring their vehicles onto the thoroughfares, leaving homes without coal in the winter.

A heated argument arose over furnishing $1,000 to the Union Fire Company from fire tax funds for the purchase of fire hose. The request did not specify the amount of hose and the legality of supplying the money under the circumstances was questioned, but it was finally granted.

Bitter Attack Made Upon Vare Political Group

publican regularity compels him (and them) to be irregular in this contest because, in 1914, the head of the present Republican ticket was an independent candidate for the United States Senate. It just so happens, however, that in the intervening period Mr. Pinchot has been a Republican Governor of this State. By Mr. Hall's own statement, neither he nor the other Vare ward leaders bolted Pinchot eight years ago. Why is it, then, that a matter which had no significance in 1922, becomes so all-important in 1930? The answer is that Mr. Hall's statement is palpable political camouflage. It is as insincere as it is inconsistent.

The Vare Organization is bolting the head of the Republican ticket for reasons to be found in Charles B. Hall's own more candid utterances earlier in this campaign.

Mr. Hall and his Vare henchmen are opposed to the head of the Republican ticket because four years of Pinchot, followed by four years of Fisher, have made eight consecutive years of Republican administration of this Commonwealth during which the Government of Pennsylvania has been administered honestly, efficiently and economically in the interest of all the people of the State; eight consecutive years during which the Vare Organization has been unable to control the State's expenditures and exploit the people of the entire State as it has those in Philadelphia.

They are opposed to the head of the Republican ticket because Gifford Pinchot is unalterably against the professional politics which uses political power for personal profit and enables men to become multi-millionaires upon $5,000 salaries.

They are opposed to the head of the Republican ticket because they are playing desperately for the biggest stake of their political careers—control of the government of this State.

Is there any honest-minded citizen—especially among those who have been the backbone of the regular Republicanism of the State—who can make himself or herself believe that Charles B. Hall and the Vare Organization have bolted the head of the Republican ticket merely because of a personal or political dislike? Or because of something occurring sixteen years ago which was deemed of no significance eight years ago?

To believe that, you are compelled not only to disregard the entire history of the Vare Organization, but likewise you have got to ignore Hall's own unguarded statements and blunt warnings upon the subject.

Those professional politicians have had long experience in a very practical school. They do not give their support first and try to make their deal afterward. What they are fighting for—unprecedented fury and by an unparalleled procedure—is to elect a man who would be a Charlie Hall-Vare Organization Governor.

That is the great and overshadowing issue of this contest, beside which all else becomes insignificant—will you be exploited as Philadelphia has been exploited? Shall Philadelphia politicians rule this State?

Philadelphia, with its $650,000,000 of bonded indebtedness and its impending and inevitable increase of tax rate, is a shining example of their work. They have stepped into the Democratic Party to flout their challenge to the entire State. For the citizens of this Commonwealth there is but one safeguard—

Vote the full Republican ticket, and thereby elect as Governor of this State a man against whose four years as Chief Executive there has never been a serious criticism—who came into office facing a $31,000,000 appropriation deficit, and who, after a highly constructive Administration, left to his successor a cash surplus of $11,000,000.

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!
